MONEY TRUST BUSTED

City and County Officials Defeat Bankers.

TEN INNINGS PLAYED

SCORE THEN WAS ELEVEN TO TEN.

The excitement was intense during the last two innings, and for awhile it was any man's game. Steller attractions, numerous and the crowd large.

The athletic officials from the city and county building and the gymnasts who handle the cash of the capitalists in the game of the city met yesterday in a game of baseball at the university. That was nothing if not warm. The officials took away the score with them when they wended their way homeward, but they only secured it by the narrow margin. It was 11 to 10 after ten innings, and the doughty ball toss.

base and to enable Nels Margetta to make the devil's own steal and to touch his pedal extremities on the long looked for threshold. The officials went all to pieces at the play and while they were rattled Holt came in, making ing five runs in the inning. Beebe did the fungo field act and Griffiths gathered in the ball, retiring the side. The officials secured one run by squeezing in the first of the eighth, and played their old game by shutting the bankers out in their half. The men who handle the cash also demonstrated that they are able to handle a ball and returned the compliment of the officials in the first of the ninth. The officials were equally gracious and as a result the bankers didn't score, the ninth ending with the score an even eight on each side.

The men from the county building opened the tenth rather inauspiciously. Jeffs striking out. Thatcher followed with a three-bagger out in the bushes, and Bert Margetta got to first, because Groesbeck wasn't watching where the sphere was going. He eventually went to sleep and was retired. Griffiths then got a free pass to the initial, and Naylor brought him in by a home run, the gallant lieutenant going to the woods on the jump. This, of course, brought Thatcher and Griffiths in, and the score was eleven. Iverson poked an easy one to left field, McEwan lapped it and the side was retired. Holt went to the stick for the bankers and pushed an easy one to short. He tried to beat it down to first, but the ball was victorious and Holt went back to the bench to think it over. Groesbeck got to the initial on an error at short, and Beebe followed with a clean hit out into right field. Wells walked down to first, and the bases were full.

The Critical Moment. The crowd held its breath as Young went to the stick. He handed out a nice single, and in the shuffle both Groesbeck and Beebe slid in home. But Young was too anxious and was caught in the act of trying to steal second. McEwan swung wildly at the atmophere and died at home, as the rest of the Bankers heard the dirge of defeat ringing in their ears. The only runs of the Bankers were made in the third inning by an error on the part of Wegeland out in left field. Two men were out and the bases were full. Wells placed the sphere out in Wegeland's territory, but it was misjudged and fell to the ground after being fumbled around by the man who ought to have had it.

There were several star features of the game. One of them was the new uniform worn by the Bankers and the other was Bert Margetta's poses and his persistent invitation of trouble by chewing the atmosphere in the direction of the umpire. Tribby Nicholson was another big attraction, and his smile at the end of the game could be felt within a radius of two blocks. The first umpire, Weiler, also might be listed among the stellar features, as he did what umpires are never expected to do. He quit at the first of the second inning because his decision was disputed. All around it was a big event, an all-star attraction.

STOLE ANOTHER MAN'S WIFE

BUT SHE WAS WILLING ENOUGH TO GO.

Lander, Wyo., Shaken Up By a Sensation and Two Soldiers Are In Trouble.

(Special to The Herald.)

Lander, Wyo., April 16.—Last evening about 9 o'clock A. F. Moan, formerly a corporal of troop E, located at Fort Washakie, and now discharged and a citizen of this city, went to his room at the Hotel Fremont to join his wife, and found that two former comrades of his, George Findlay and Sam Hastings, had called on his wife in company with a woman by the name of Emma Avery. Mr. Moan objected to his wife receiving the company, when one of the soldiers, Sam Hastings, pulled a pistol and ordered him out of the room, stating that his company was not desired.
Mr. Moan protested and the parties started to leave, and while Moan's attention was taken up by his retiring guests Mrs. Moan climbed out of the window and joined her friends on the outside. Mr. Moan immediately notified Marshal Savage, and he started hot on the trail and caught up with them as they were getting on their horses to return to the fort. Calling on them to halt, which they refused to do, Savage fired at them and they immediately returned the salute, then wheeled their horses and shook the dust of Lander off their feet.
Mr. Moan was married in this city on the 4th of March to Miss Rachael Chapman, and from all accounts the union has not been a happy one. The authorities intend to prosecute Hastings and he will probably be brought to Lander tomorrow.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Is Doing for Women.

"Your wonderful medicine made me a well woman."

"For years I was a misery to myself and every one around me. I never laid my aching head upon my pillow without wishing I could die. I suffered terrible pain in my back, head, and right side, was very nervous, and would cry for hours. Menses would appear sometimes in two weeks, then again not for three or four months. I was so tired and weak, could not sleep nights, sharp pains would dart through my heart that would almost cause me to fall. I was so poor and white that my folks thought I was going to die."

"My mother told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had no faith in it, but to please her I did so. The first bottle helped me so much that I continued its use. I am now well and weigh more than I ever did in my life."—MRS. WINIFRED ALLENDER, Farmington, Ill.

Mrs. Dallard cured of Painful Periods and Backache.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Nobody knows how I have suffered every month at time of menstruation. I have wished for death many and many a time. The pains were so hard that I would have to go to bed and have hot irons at my feet, hot applications to my right side, and take hot drinks. I have been troubled in this way for three years, also suffered severely with backache and had a discharge of whites. Now at monthly periods I can do my work and suffer no pain. I am like a new woman, and entirely through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I feel that I owe your medicine a debt I can never repay."—MRS. N. L. DALLARD, 45 13th St., Wheeling, W. Va.

Mrs. Aston is cured of Ovarian trouble and avoids an operation.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish you to publish my letter stating the grand effect Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has had on my health. I was suffering to such an extent from ovarian trouble that my physician thought an operation would be necessary. Your medicine having been recommended to me, I decided to try it. After using several bottles I found that I was cured. My system was toned up and I suffered no more with my ovaries. Your medicine is the greatest boon on earth to suffering women."—MRS. ANNA ASTON, Box 13, Troy, Mo.

Mrs. Corum strengthened before birth of baby.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Since writing to you I have taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and can recommend it very highly, for it has done me a great deal of good. During the time before baby was born I was so weak I could hardly do anything. I was told by a friend to take Mrs. Pinkham's medicine, which I did, and it strengthened me so that I was able to do my work and I now have a fine healthy baby. When nine months old he weighed thirty-one pounds. I hope that all women troubled as I was will take your Vegetable Compound."—MRS. I. D. CORUM, 834 N. Alma St., Austin, Ill.

Mrs. Noble helped through the Change of Life.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was a very sick woman. Change of life was working upon me. I suffered with hot flushes and fainting spells. I got so that I was afraid to go out on the street. My head troubled me so much sometimes that I thought I would go mad. Had pain in my back and could not eat. I began the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and in a short time the flushes of heat and fainting spells had all left me. I felt better than I ever did before. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to all who suffer from female weakness."—MRS. JENNIE NOBLE, 5016 Keyser St., Germantown, Philadelphia, Pa.

But McEwan forbade such a catastrophe happening. He let go a glittering sphere away over the trees in center field, hitting in Wells. Then Coffin took his place at the willow and proceeded to put himself on record for a while by twice times, and McEwan came in home during the shuffle. Badger endeavored to break the charm by pushing a watermelon and being punched on his arrival at the initial. Margetta simply emphasized the plate for a triple, and Coffin came in.
At this point it was decided the wisest course would be to put in another Griffiths. Souchow the new man didn't let him have one in the ear, causing a stoppage in the running of the wheels for a few minutes. As soon as the cage was first in order again, Holt took his place on first and Groesbeck proceeded to grasp the stick.
He pushed an easy one down to Naylor, but it went ambling by just far enough to let Groesbeck to his
